1. Subject left Midway Airport on 16 July 1963 and via Amsterdam arrived Moscow by air on 17 July 1963. He was met by YANVSEY, Anna, representative of the Corporate Chapter of the Ukrainian SSR, Kiev. Subject's was a business trip arranged in advance through his personal contacts with

a) YERANOV, Ivan who was in charge of foreign trade of Ukrainian SSR and whom Subject met in New York, and

b) Nechukhmedova Irina of Moscow; and through his contacts and associations with some people from the Government Mission of the Ukrainian SSR at the U.N. namely YERANOV, YERANOV, and TSEKHAN. The purpose of his trip was to make contracts with various Soviet Russian and Ukrainian institutions for delivery to his store "YERANOV" in Chicago, Ill. of Ukrainian records, china and other commodities, artistic woodcraft, and books. In Subject's car words the Soviet visa was given to him by YERANOV, as Subject refused to apply for visa to Moscow but insisted on doing so through Soviet Ukrainian Mission to Kiev.

Customs control was rather superficial, only one or two questions were asked casually into but he was asked to show his $ 1,000.- he had stated to have on him.

YANVSEY met Subject on his return to YERANOV and the former kept Subject company all the time during his sojourn in the Soviet Union, and left him only in NEW YORK on his flight to Moscow after Subject had finished his business in the Ukraine. Subject returned to the USA by plane on 12 Aug 1963.

The of "declassification" of YANVSEY was to assist Subject in his class train to HUI and arrived there next morning at 07.30 hrs. HUIV IN told him about the situation in the country.

On the 1st of April 1951, subject went to the Ministry of Culture where he met LEH HUI, who talked with him mainly about subject's commercial business, a thing he had not met. Subject also visited LEH V in the city of Saigon under the name of L.A. and was a member of the Association of Cultural Contacts with Foreign Countries, and with them planned his further itinerary. Since LEH HUI (Division of Artistic Industry) in HUI had mentioned subject was interested in it was suggested to go to LEH V, and then to other places.

6. In last subject and HUIV IN went to HUIV by plane. They stayed at Hotel "Hanoi". In the evening subject visited a woodcarving enterprise in 25, LEH HUI, where he met several Chinese workers from Le Huihohym, and whose works he had imported before. Here he made some new orders for artistic woodcarved articles and went to LEH HUI (officer at 27, LEH HUI LEH HUI). From there they were sent to the Ceramics Factory at 107, LEH HUI LEH HUI. Subject wanted to order a figure by "BUI X" 20 porcelain on terms at R 22, but was told that they had closed the manufacture because there was no demand. In the evening subject saw the figure was too allomorphic and inconsistent with social order. HUIV IN even said he thought it might be interpreted "as killing one man by a bourgeois nationalist". The people at the factory agreed however to start its manufacture as soon as they will have their orders. Someone even commented that it was a good idea because this "the new artist" (the artist) was a very good one.

7. On the 1st of April 1951, subject and HUIV IN went by train to LEH HUI where they visited the university and then proceeded by car to LEH HUI. The trip to LEH HUI took 4 hours but subject was not sure whether he had been really in that town. They visited there a number of places where subject placed his orders

For the next 24 hours he remained in the hospital.

In the evening they traveled by plane to the VILNIUS airport.

6. From LITHUANIA they traveled by car to the VILNIUS airport near VILNIUS. There in a room they stayed with a family of Lithuanians. Subject met an officer of the Lithuanian Air Force who had been rehabilitated only after the war. From VILNIUS they went by car to KLAIPEDA where subject placed some orders for provision supplies.

9. In the afternoon of the 10th day they visited VILNIUS. Subject was pleasantly surprised by the city and in particular by the fact that he heard very little of the Lithuanian situation in the past. In VILNIUS's suggestion they also visited a library - a very nice library where he was welcomed in Russian by a library worker who also sang Lithuanian songs and did not know "psychology". As it turned out later on his visit to the camp was pre-arranged on order of KLAIPEDA and she was very angry when subject told her how - in her own words - "they rehabilitated him".

In the evening subject saw a doctor (doctor) and spoke to an engineer who told him that he earned 100 rubles and he had skilled workers were going to the U.S.S.R. Subject found the KLAIPEDA production system very interesting and he observed that there would be at least 70% of those employed.

10. In the morning subject traveled to the airport and saw a plane which was going to the U.S.S.R. Subject found the KLAIPEDA production system very interesting and he observed that there would be at least 70% of those employed.

10. From LITHUANIA they returned to the airport and subject saw a plane which was going to the U.S.S.R. Subject found the KLAIPEDA production system very interesting and he observed that there would be at least 70% of those employed. From Moscow he left by plane for New York and arrived here on 12 Aug 1963.

1. KROVA received subject in her office in HEAV, 21, Tel. Kirova 58, Tel. 26 147. First time when subject came to say goodbye she greeted him with a smile and said. Subject's impression was that KROVA was an intelligent woman, well read, serious. Her husband was a Hero of the Soviet Union and said to be a complete invalid. (She was "too/very" worried trouble in their first 3 or 4 years - according to Subject.)

o/ They in the Agency were very much interested in new emigrants such as subject. They (him) welcomed everyone who came to the Agency with honest intentions and were always ready to forget the past. He stressed that also former Division officials and soldiers were welcomed and that there were many of them living now in the Ukraine anyway. In particular representatives of Intel agencies, medical doctors, engineers, writers, poets and other professionals should visit the Agency.

c/ he also assured the subject that pretty soon the American JET will get its disservice re-reputations fixed.

SUBJECT : Information For Evaluation and Possible Dissemination

SOURCE : ANCASCHANY/29 from a Western European citizen, a former Soviet citizen, who travelled in the USSR in August 1963

In Yalta, the source stayed at the Hotel Arionnia. One day the maid noticed an open window in his room. When the source admitted that he kept it open all night, she scolded him and warned him that robberies made it unsafe to leave windows open. The maid said that "recently" an American had been killed and robbed in the very same room. She asked the source not to tell anyone that she had told him about the incident because, even though she had learned about it, the authorities have been keeping it a secret.
